Construction may begin before June

Sidewalk to be built on Arlington Hts. Rd.

Buffalo Grove has decided to move ahead with plans to install a half-mile sidewalk along Arlington Heights Road.

Plans call for the sidewalk to be built between Twisted Oak Lane and Ill. Rte. 83 intersection. Officials are pushing for construction to begin before June 1.

The project, expected to cost between $20,000 and $22,000, will be paid for by the village. Developer Levitt, Inc. would finance up to $11,000 of the cost.

The measure passed Monday night by a 4-2 village board vote. Trustees Thomas Mahoney and Randall Rathjen cast the negative votes.

Mahoney said he was voting against the agreement because Levitt is not legally bound to help finance its construction.

He said he was not against a sidewalk at the location but expressed concern that the village would end up paying for most of the project if costs run higher than expected.

He also questioned the validity of the expenditure saying the sidewalk might see only limited use. "It's hard to come up with a really solid reason to justify it," he said.

IN SUPPORT OF THE action, however, Trustee Clarice Rech said the sidewalk would be "taking a good step at the proper time in planning for the future."

She said the village may be able to have a continuous sidewalk on Arlington Heights Road between Ill. Rte. 83 and Dundee Road when other developers in the area help finance further sidewalk construction.

Village Mgr. Daniel Larson told the board the sidewalk will provide good access to a proposed shopping center at Arlington Heights Road and Rte. 83, slated to be built in the next two years.

CONTROVERSY ERUPTED last year over the sidewalk issue. Last May the board passed an ordinance vacating a sidewalk easement between four homes on Twisted Oak and Aspen Court.

The easements were to provide access to the Arlington Heights Road sidewalk but homeowners next to it said their homes would be the targets of vandals.

November shootings case

Youth goes to grand jury on murder-attempt rap

An 18-year-old Wheeling youth was bound over to the grand jury last week on attempted murder charges stemming from the Nov. 27 shooting of two women along Dundee Road in Wheeling.

The youth, Paul R. Gantz Jr., 945 Wilshire Dr., appeared Friday in the Arlington Heights branch of Circuit Court and was ordered to appear before the county grand jury.

Police said several shots were fired at about 1:30 p.m. Nov. 27 in the area of Dundee Road near Jack London Junior High School. One bullet or pellet smashed a passing car's front passenger-side window and a fragment lodged in the head of Lelia Edgerton, 46, of 758 Lake View Dr., Wheeling.

The other woman injured was Barbara Petykowski, 298 N. Ashland Ave., Palatine, who was hit in the hand while she was walking with her son.

Gantz is charged with attempted murder and aggravated battery in the incident. He is free on $20,000 bond.

Work slated on dangerous intersections

by JOHN MAES

Illinois and Lake County highway officials expect to begin work on two intersection improvement projects for Ill. Rte. 83 near Buffalo Grove and Wheeling early in May.

Slated for improvements are the Rte. 83 intersections at Ill. Rte. 53, where accident rates have been rising steadily over the last few years, and at Arlington Heights Road.

The improvements include state-financed traffic signal installation costing about $550,000, officials estimate.

BUFFALO GROVE officials also are trying to arrange with Lake County for widening of Arlington Heights Road north of Rte. 83 to Mayflower Drive and are waiting to approve at least $25,000 in motor fuel tax funds for the project.

Village of Long Grove and Vernon Township officials are being asked to help fund that part of the work because part of the road lies within their boundaries, said William Balling, Buffalo Grove administrative assistant.

Village Pres. Robert Coffin of Long Grove Monday said it was "a little premature to comment" on Long Grove participation because he had not seen any communication from Buffalo Grove.

He said, however, that the matter would be discussed with the village board when a request is received.

ROY FONDA, a state traffic engineer said the Rte. 83-Rte. 53 improvement is designed to reduce the mounting number of traffic accidents there in the last several years.

The intersection is to be changed from its current triangular shape to a T-shape. Traffic signals will also be installed, Fonda said.

He said the area has had a "high accident rate for a number of years," adding that the state is currently in the process of eliminating triangular intersections throughout Illinois.

ALTHOUGH 1974 statistics are not yet available, Fonda pointed to figures showing 26 accidents, one of them a fatality, occurred there in 1973. Between 1969 and 1972, there were 51 traffic mishaps reported, three resulting in deaths.

But they're willing to try again

Hersey 'froggers' 'misleaped'—by 180 miles!

Undaunted by a 180-mile mistake they made last weekend, a group of Hersey High School students bent on breaking the world leapfrog record said Monday they plan to try it again.

The students spent 12 hours Saturday and Sunday leaping 56 miles, breaking an old world leapfrog record of 50 miles. After the marathon leap they found the old record was from an outdated Guinness Book of World Records.

The leapers were 180 miles short of the new 236-mile mark set by a West German team that appears in the latest edition of the record book.

"We're going to get better organized and try it again in early March," team member Mike Zahnen said.

ZAHNEN SAID he wasn't sure whether the team would try for the 236-mile record which took a 14-member team 69 hours and 12 minutes, or the U.S. record of about 100 miles. "It depends on how we feel," said Zahnen, who said he was taking the elevator to get to his second floor classes Monday because he couldn't climb the stairs.

All the publicity given to the seven-man, seven-woman team has prompted new interest in the leapfrog team, but Zahnen said first crack at the record will be given to those on the original team.

Zahnen said he hopes a newfound technique will give his team a real shot at the record. The team started with three- or four-member shifts, but during dinner time, the team dropped to a low of two members.

"WE FOUND THAT you can conserve more energy doing it two at a time with half-lap distances," Zahnen said. But in order to keep things going during dinner, Zahnen and teammate T. R. Frey spent 1½ hours as a two-man team, something they hope won't happen next time.

Besides providing more food for the team during competition and making sure of the record before when they go to break it, Zahnen said he anticipates few changes when the team leaps into action again.

No special training is planned before then, either.

"We got enough training over the weekend," he sighed.

Major problem is heating

Cooperative effort at work to solve Sandpiper woes

The Sandpiper Apartments, formerly Berkshire Trace, continue to have problems while changing hands.

by JOHN MAES

Buffalo Grove officials and the manager of Sandpiper Apartments, formerly Berkshire Trace, are working together to solve a new wave of problems that has beset the 15-building complex.

Village officials had threatened action last year to close apartments in the development, on Dundee Road near Arlington Heights Road, because of building code violations. Roofing, sidewalks and unsafe second-floor balconies were among the things that needed repair, officials said.

Violations at the 300-unit complex, then owned and managed by Kassuba Inc., were corrected and village building director William Dettmer said no legal action would be taken.

Now, Kassuba is going through bankruptcy proceedings. The complex is being managed by Littlestone Management Corp. and more problems have cropped up.

DETTMER SAID that since the beginning of the year he has received almost 15 complaints, most of them for problems in the heating system. In some cases residents have complained of the temperature hitting 87 degrees or having no heat in their apartments last week.

Dettmer said valves controlling heat to the apartments apparently have worn out. He said the valves were installed incorrectly when Kassuba had the system built several years ago.

Three breakdowns occurred last week, with as many as 90 residents without heat for varying periods of time, Dettmer said. The first breakdowns came during the height of last week's cold spell. The situation was finally corrected after a second and third failure left one building heatless for three hours.

The mishap caused heating pipes in some vacant apartments to burst. It also caused one family from the complex to spend a night in a nearby motel.

SALLY WESSEL, 879 Trace Dr., said the temperature in her apartment rose to 84 degrees at one point last week. Dettmer said Mrs. Wessel as well as several other residents had the problem be-

'Flesh Gordon' may be flash in pan

The X-rated movie "Flesh Gordon" is still showing at the Elk Grove Cinema, but it may be here today and gone tomorrow. Village Mgr. Charles Willis said Monday the movie does not appear to fall under the local anti-obscenity ordinance, but said additional information later may cause him to change his mind. Three Elk Grove Village policemen went to the movie when it opened on Friday as "official viewers" to check the film against standards outlined in the anti-obscenity law. The law was adopted last January when the same theater was showing "The Devil in Miss Jones."

Teen gunmen rob 7-Eleven

Two pistol-wielding youths robbed a woman clerk of $75 Monday night at the 7-Eleven store, 1702 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights. Police said the two youths, both wearing ski masks and carrying long-barreled pistols, confronted the clerk and took $75 in coins from a floor safe. The bandits, described as in their early teens, escaped on foot.

They leaped before they looked Undaunted by a 180-mile mistake they made over the weekend, a group of Hersey High School students bent on breaking the world leapfrog record said Monday they plan to try again. The students spent 12 hours breaking by six miles what they thought was the old world leapfrog record of 50 miles, only to discover later they were only breaking an outdated record from an outdated Guinness Book of World Records. "We're going to get better organized and try it again in early March," said one team member.

Record enrollment at Harper

Harper College is well on its way to setting a record in the number of full and part-time students this semester. Guerin Fisher, vice president of the college, Monday said total enrollment is 15,750, up 650 from the fall semester. Fisher said he didn't know why enrollment is up — it's unusual for the spring enrollment to be higher than the fall enrollment — but said: "I think one of the major reasons is the economy — people can't get jobs so they are coming back to school."

Illness closes delivery room

Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights has closed its delivery room temporarily because of an outbreak of illness in the nursery. Malcolm MacCoun, hospital president, Monday said that nine babies have become ill with symptoms including diarrhea and a rash since the middle of last week. He said the babies have all recovered within 48 to 72 hours of the onset of the illness. All delivery cases are being transferred to Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines, he said. MacCoun said results of studies to determine the nature of the disease have proven inconclusive. He said, "It is probably some kind of a virus. It appears as though the mothers are not involved in this. It is strictly an infant kind of thing."

Train loss may be gain

A squabble between two railroads could relieve Des Plaines of at least 12 freight trains a day on the Chicago and North Western Ry. outer belt tracks. The North Western is trying to ban Milwaukee Road freight trains because the Milwaukee Road doesn't want to pay higher fees for use of the tracks. A group of Chicago residents who live near an alternate route that may be used by the Milwaukee Road have protested the possible change. But Mayor Herbert H. Behrel of Des Plaines said Monday he thinks the move would be "great."

Expert may seek gas source

Palatine officials may hire a consultant this spring to determine the cause of gasoline fumes coming from the sewers in the Palanoid Park subdivision. Village fire officials recently investigated reports by several residents of Elmwood Avenue that gasoline fumes were leaking into their homes through pipes in their basements and kitchens. About a dozen of the 200 houses in the subdivision have been affected by the fumes periodically over the last seven years.

Arend may run for trustee

William W. Arend, a backer of mayoral candidate Michael H. Minton in 1973, said Monday he is considering entering the race for a seat on the Mount Prospect Village Board. Minton said Sunday he also is considering running for trustee in the April election. Five independents have declared their candidacies, as well as a slate of five.

House speaker stalemate unbroken

by BOB LAHEY

Hours of negotiations among Democratic members of the Illinois House of Representatives failed to produce an end to the stalemate over selection of a speaker of the House Monday night.

An exasperated Secy. of State Michael Howlett adjourned the House late Monday at the request of Democrats, who once again failed to arrive at a compromise over who in their ranks will preside over the 79th General Assembly.

The House is to meet again at noon today, and Democrats scheduled a caucus for 10 a.m. in yet another attempt to decide on their choice for speaker.

AFTER TWO ballots Monday, there was no significant change in the totals for the possible speakers. Rep. William Redmond, D-Bensenville, remained the frontrunner, with a total hovering around 80 votes — nine short of the required 89. Rep. Clyde Choate, D-Anna, the minority Democratic leader in the last session, held fast to about 15 votes — enough to block the election of any other Democrat without help from Republicans.

At the session's close late Monday, there were rumors that the main point of contention was whether Rep. Gerald Shea, D-Chicago, would receive a position in the Democratic leadership when and if Redmond is elected speaker.

Shea served as assistant minority leader under Choate, and supporters of Choate have reportedly been demanding that he be deposed along with the Anna Democrat if they re to support Redmond. Shea, chief spokesman of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley in the last two sessions, was reported to be resisting this tactic. elott s tactic.

SHORTLY AFTER 5 p.m., Howlett walked out on the House after announcing that he would not preside over fruitless continual balloting. Despite protests from the floor that the House had not adjourned, Howlett, the temporary presiding officer, strode from the rostrum.

Choate and Redmond, each accompanied by two supporters, then went into a closed-door huddle with three representatives each of Gov. Daniel Walker and Mayor Daley.

Paddock Corp. sues minority stockholder

The Paddock Corporation of Arlington Heights and three members of the Paddock family have filed a $500,000 suit in U.S. District Court against John R. Malone, a minority stockholder.

The suit charges Malone, a newspaper consultant from Park Forest, with violating sections of the U.S. Securities Act by making misleading and fraudulent statements and by concealing fraud. It also charges Malone with breach of fiduciary duty to the corporation.

It charges that Malone took advantage of his former position as an officer and director of the company and used the U.S. mails and other instruments of interstate commerce to attempt to "wrest control of the company" from the Paddock family for Malone's personal benefit.

The suit also charges that Malone used false representations to induce one or more investors to purchase stock.

In addition to seeking $500,000 in punitive damages, the suit seeks attorney's fees and costs. It also asks Malone to return all securities to the Paddock Corporation, and it asks that the court enjoin him from transferring or otherwise disposing of any Paddock stock. Malone holds 5.8 per cent of the common stock of the corporation.

The suit is a countersuit stemming from one filed by Malone and two other minority stockholders who since have withdrawn from litigation.

The Paddock Corporation is a holding company for Paddock Publications Inc., Arlington Heights, publishers of The Herald's nine suburban daily editions, and Paddock Circle Newspapers Inc., Libertyville, publishers of six weekly newspapers in Lake County.

FBI has 'personal' information on congressmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI disclosed Monday its files contain information on the personal lives of congressmen, including reports on their "loyalty, character and reputation."

The Justice Department, meanwhile, ordered FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley to prepare a report, which may go to President Ford, on the kind of information on congressmen the bureau has in its files, officials said.

A spokesman said the FBI does not compile such information into actual dossiers on individual members of Congress. But he said the bureau maintains a cross-reference index card file showing each time a congressman is mentioned in any investigatory file.

If the FBI ever wants to find information about a particular member of Congress, the spokesman said, it would use the index card system to locate the various files containing references to that individual.

The bureau's disclosure followed a Washington Post report Sunday that the FBI under the late director J. Edgar Hoover compiled files on congressmen, including reports on their drinking habits and illicit sexual activities. The newspaper quoted former Hoover aides as saying the information was neither obtained by direct surveillance nor kept for blackmail purposes.

Reports of the files triggered a sharp reaction on Capitol Hill.

Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., one of several congressmen who called for an investigation of the FBI, said the bureau had lied to Congress in the past when asked if such files existed. He called it a cover-up "as insidious as Watergate."

But Attorney General William B. Saxbe, acknowledging in a televised interview the bureau sometimes obtained material on congressmen but denying there were any secret files, said: "If they're looking for another Watergate, they're going to be disappointed."

The spokesman for the bureau, asked what might be found by someone using the cross-index system, replied that the FBI saves any information volunteered to agents or received by letter from informants concerning a person's "loyalty, character and reputation."

He said the cross-reference index contains entries on any person about whom such information is obtained. The names of members of Congress, he said, are mingled with all the others.

"It doesn't make any difference whether he is a bricklayer, banker or congressman," the spokesman said.

The spokesman said the information is put in the file of the investigation that produced it even though it might not be relevant to that investigation.

Such material, the spokesman said, is never used unless the person to whom the references apply becomes the subject of an investigation himself. Should that happen, he said, the cross-reference index gives the FBI a head start.

The spokesman said an investigation involving the congressional material might result from a member of Congress being nominated for a position such as a Cabinet-level job which requires an FBI check.

A file is then created on the congressman himself for what is called a "background" investigation.

Elsewhere in Washington yesterday, Senate Democrats voted to create a special committee to investigate allegations of illegal intelligence-gathering on Americans by the CIA, FBI and other agencies. The vote came over strong objections from Sen. John Stennis, who argued that an investigative process might destroy the CIA.

Public prefers rationing, but . . .

Ford believes high gas prices best

From Herald news services

President Ford remains convinced higher prices and not rationing is the way to hold down gasoline consumption, the White House said Monday.

Asked by reporters if Ford was taking another look at gas rationing, press secretary Ron Nessen replied: "Certainly not."

Asked about public opinion poll reports saying the public preferred rationing to higher prices, Nessen said the President is aware of what people are saying.

The press secretary said the President's anti-recession program is complex and needs to be explained to the public. He said Ford will have a news conference Tuesday and will make an economic speech to 800-900 businessmen and economists Wednesday night at the Washington meeting of the Conference Board.

News of the speech came as Sens. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., proposed legislation preventing Ford from imposing a tariff. Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., said he would rather see gas rationing.

Elsewhere on the economic-energy scene:

• In another move toward easier credit and lower interest rates, the Federal Reserve Board reduced bank reserve requirements, making an additional $1.1 billion available for borrowing from the nation's commercial banks. The action "is designed to permit further gradual improvement in bank liquidity and to facilitate moderate growth in the monetary aggregates," the Reserve Board said.

• Two natural gas companies clamped restrictions on gas supplies and a third utility said it is nearly broke.

National Fuel Gas, Buffalo, N.Y., which supplies gas in Western New York and parts of Pennsylvania, said it will take no more residential customers and would reduce industrial supplies by 2 per cent.

Pennsylvania Gas & Water of Wilkes-Barre, reduced its natural gas supplies by 58 per cent to 34 major industrial customers.

Georgia Power Co. told the state's Public Service Commission the utility is on the brink of insolvency. Georgia Power wants an emergency $86 million rate hike and a permanent increase of $305 million annually.

• In New York, Chemical Bank, which took over Security National Bank as it verged on collapse, blamed the recession and the psychological impact of an earlier bank failure for Security's surprise demise. Security National Bank customers had their accounts automatically transferred to Chemical at no loss.

• In Detroit, General Motors Corp. joined the price war to attract reluctant customers into auto showrooms by announcing it will pay $200 to $500 rebates to buyers of compact and subcompact cars. GM, the giant of the industry, was the last member of the automotive Big Three to take the step.

Food stamp benefits suit filed

Consumer attorneys Monday opened a legal counterattack against an administration order reducing food stamp benefits for the needy by an estimated $645 million annually. Attorneys for Consumers Union, in a suit filed in federal court, asked that the order be stricken. Under the administration order issued last week and effective March 1, most of the 5.4 million needy people receiving food stamps will be required to pay 30 per cent of their adjusted net income to purchase the allotments.

Supreme Court to review topless issue

The Supreme Court Monday agreed to decide whether broadly written local ordinances banning all forms of topless dancing — for art as well as for profit — are constitutional. The justices will schedule oral arguments and hand down a written decision, probably by June, which could force localities to strictly word anti-topless laws to avoid infringing free speech rights.

Clemency Board going on tour

The Presidential Clemency Board, buoyed by the response to its broadcast campaign for applicants, said Monday its members will travel across the country in the next two weeks trying to reach even more potential candidates for amnesty. Chairman Charles Goodell said he had canceled a three-day meeting of the board this week so members could visit such cities as Boston, New York, Chicago and Los Angeles to spread the word about the clemency program.

Chou: U.S., Soviets drift toward war

The United States and the Soviet Union are drifting inevitably into world war, Chinese Premier Chou En-lai warned in a major speech released by Peking Monday. Chou's report covered a wide range of domestic Chinese political and economic issues as well as international affairs.

Scotland Yard probes hotel attacks

Scotland Yard ballistics experts Monday studied bullets fired at two West End hotels popular with London's Jewish community to see if there was any connection with a similar hotel attack last month blamed on the Irish Republican Army. Seven persons were injured when gunmen raked the Portman and Carlton Towers hotels with machinegun fire Sunday night.

In Dublin, meanwhile, the ruling Army Council of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, under strong pressure to resume all-out war in Britain and Northern Ireland, delayed its "war or peace" decision pending further talks with British officials.

Arab gunmen surrender to Iraqi lawmen

PARIS (UPI) — Three Arab gunmen surrendered to Iraqi authorities early Tuesday after their commandeered Air France 707 jetliner landed in Baghdad for the second time in less than 24 hours.

The all-volunteer crew was reported safe.

The Arabs took off from Orly Airport early Monday after France provided the plane and let them go in exchange for 10 hostages they held for 17 hours at the airport. The trio had tried to shoot up an Israeli airliner Sunday.

"The plane landed in Baghdad at 4:43 a.m. (7:43 p.m. CST Monday)," said a spokesman for Air France.

"The guerrillas gave themselves up to Iraqi authorities and the Air France crew is safe and sound."

The plane landed in Baghdad after a flight over the Arabian peninsula, the Red Sea, parts of Egypt and back to Iraq as airport after airport denied them permission to land.

The plane was commandeered Monday at Orly, outside of Paris, after the three gunmen released their hostages following an abortive attack on an El Al passenger plane. The attack left 18 persons in the terminal injured.

As the aircraft flew over the Arabian Peninsula, several Arab nations closed their airports to prevent the plane from landing.

The gunmen who have been denounced by the Palestine Liberation Organization, originally demanded to be flown to Jeddah, Saudi Arabia, but were refused permission to land.

The Palestine Liberation Organization said in Beirut it would demand extradition of the gunmen if they are identified as Palestinians and put them on trial "for their crimes."

"They are assassins," French Interior Minister Michel Poniatowski told a news conference after the plane left Paris. "If lives of hostages had not been at stake, I would have handled them differently."

U.S. threatens to close Cyprus embassy

From Herald news services

The United States announced Monday it has threatened to close down its embassy in Cyprus and withdraw from peace negotiations "if any member of the embassy staff in Nicosia should suffer injury as a result of mob action."

A State Department spokesman said the Cypriot government had responded by promising to take protective steps.

The statement came as President Archbishop Makarios intervened personally in Nicosia to turn back thousands of Greek Cypriot demonstrators trying to storm the American Center in defiance of tear gas grenades and warning shots by police and soldiers.

The bearded president-priest, wearing the traditional black robes of the Greek Orthodox Church, faced the crowd of brick-throwing demonstrators and like a modern Pied Piper led about 3,000 of them away peacefully.

Police said 11 demonstrators and two policemen were injured in the demonstrations.

It was the fourth day of demonstrations since the British decision last week to allow some 11,000 Turkish Cypriot refugees to leave the southern Cyprus British base of Akrotiri for the Turkish mainland.

The decision touched off a wave of protests. Greek Cypriots feared the refugees will settle in Turkish-occupied northern Cyprus and help bring about a partition of the Mediterranean island.

The U.S. embassy and the offices of the British High Commission were stormed and ransacked by Greek Cypriot rioters Saturday. The U.S. Marine guard was forced to use tear gas to help disperse the attackers.

The United States has been a target for protests because Greek Cypriots said Washington failed to prevent last summer's Turkish invasion of Cyprus after the pro-Greek coup July 15 that forced Makarios into temporary exile.

In Athens, meanwhile, former dictator George Papadopolous and four of his close associates were arrested Monday and charged with high treason and insurrection in connection with the 1967 military coup.

Supply routes to Phnom Penh cut

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Communist rebels have cut off all land and water routes to this refugee-swollen capital of Cambodia and forced the South Vietnamese government to call off a 20-ship relief convoy, government sources said Monday.

Instead, six ships loaded with rice have left South Vietnam for Kompong Som, 140 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, and the Cambodians will try to fly it in from there, they said.

Food supplies in Phnom Penh are expected to run out in a week.

A convoy of at least 20 ships has been waiting for more than a week to sail to Phnom Penh but Communist ambushes and the shelling at Neak Luong, 40 miles south of the capital, forced the South Vietnamese to tell the Cambodians it was impossible, the sources said. More than 50,000 refugees have fled to the city in the wake of the Communists' latest offensive, which began Dec. 31.

5 indicted for bribing Chicago cops

Five men who allegedly offered bribes to Chicago policemen were indicted by a Cook County Grand Jury Monday.

State's Atty. Bernard Carey said the alleged bribes ranged from $150 to $17,200. Carey said most policemen now report bribe attempts instead of keeping the money.

Among those indicted were Steve Robinson, 22, who is accused of offering $17,200 cash, which he had in his car glove compartment, to three policemen who stopped him for a traffic violation and found a marijuana cigaret in his pocket.

Others indicted were Tom Vagos, co-owner of a restaurant; Arthur Bernardi, a tavern owner who allegedly attempted to bribe police so they would overlook illegal liquor sales, and Robert Dowdy, Berwyn, and Henry Lawson, Cicero, who are accused of giving two patrolmen $1,000 to drop charges of attempted auto theft.

Guilty plea for Danaher kin

The brother-in-law of late Cook County Circuit Court Clerk Matthew Danaher pleaded guilty to charges in a bribery scheme.

John P. Hyland, former president of Illinois briefs

Evergreen Savings and Loan Assn., admitted to federal charges of income tax fraud and conspiracy in a $400,000 bribery scheme involving Danaher.

Hyland was charged with embezzlement of money paid to the savings and loan association in Evergreen Park and with taking bribery payments from builders constructing homes on Chicago's far south side.

Also indicted in the bribery scheme were Danaher and Walter Gusich, one of Danaher's aides.

An assistant state's attorney said the charges against Gusich were expected to be dismissed. Danaher, a longtime political associate of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, pleaded innocent to the charges before he died in December.

Gaslight Club owner dies

Burton Browne, founder of the Gaslight Clubs, died Monday after a three-month illness.

Mr. Browne, 69, who also established the Chateau Louise resort near Dundee, died in Columbus Hospital, Chicago.

An advertising man whose private tavern blossomed into the first string of private key clubs in the United States, Browne brought the idea of stiff drinks served by scantily clad waitresses to his Gaslight Clubs in Chicago, New York and Washington.

Murder rap for prisoner

A man on furlough from the prison work-release center in Lockport was served with a murder warrant Monday charging he shot and killed a man during a quarrel.

Charles McKinney is the second man in the past two months charged with committing a murder while on furlough.

The murder victim was Fletcher Shamberger, 30, who was shot to death in an alley early Saturday. Police said the killing resulted from a quarrel between Shamberger and two women, one of whom is McKinney's sister.

Theologian strangled

A theologian visiting Chicago to deliver a lecture was found strangled in a hotel room Saturday.

The Cook County Coroner's office said Monday that Edward L. McLean, 49, of Nashville, Tenn., appeared to have died from strangulation.

McLean's body was found on the floor of his room in the Hyatt Regency

O'Hare, Rosemont, with fingernail marks on his neck.

A bellhop, sent to the room when McLean failed to answer a call from three associates who came to visit him, found the body.

Fire at Greenville airport

Thirteen small private airplanes and an airport hangar were destroyed in a $500,000 fire in Greenville early Monday.

The cause of the fire at the municipally owned airport was undetermined. No injuries were reported.

Nursing charges to jury

Information on "criminal neglect and public fraud" in nursing homes will be turned over to a Lake County Grand Jury, Lake County Coroner Oscar Lind said Monday.

Lind, investigating the death of 15 state mental patients in northeastern Illinois nursing homes, charged one nursing home was understaffed and dirty. In another home, patients received tranquilizers at the same time they were being given drugs for diarrhea, "something that should never be administered," Lind said.

"The more drugs they administer, the more state money they get. It's a public fraud," Lind said.

Lind also called for state officials to close two nursing homes in Waukegan and Highland Park.

It'll be a busy 2 weeks for RTA

The Regional Transportation Authority has scheduled four meetings in the next two weeks in an effort to set a salary for chairman-elect Milton Pikarsky, approve a budget and set rules and regulations.

The RTA law requires a budget from the board by Feb. 1. It is to be reviewed by the governor and the Illinois General Assembly, and sent back to the board for public hearings and final action. Pikarsky said a budget should be ready by the deadline, but the board has to consider the subject at a public meeting.

Temporary chairman Joseph Tecson of Riverside said the board has nine months from the date of organization to formulate rules and regulations for the board activities, and he said he hopes that deadline can be met.

AN EXECUTIVE session before today's 10:30 a.m. public meeting may be the final meeting to establish a salary and working conditions for Pikarsky. Estimates of what his salary will be range from $80,000 to $100,000. He is to begin his RTA duties by Feb. 1.

The board is awaiting an attorney's opinion on a $5 million donation agreement with Chicago and Cook County, which has been prepared as a condition for funds to be granted to the Chicago Transit Authority. Action on the agreement may come today.

Other scheduled meetings are for 2:30 p.m. Thursday, 1:30 p.m. Jan. 29 and 1:30 p.m. Jan. 31 in the board's temporary office at 300 N. State St., Chicago. The Jan. 31 meeting may extend into the night, Tecson warned at the last RTA board meeting.

WAITING TO BE FILLED on court dates is this new gravel parking lot adjacent to the Wheeling Village Hall, 255 W. Dundee Rd. The new court is to open March 1, and will handle Wheeling and Buffalo Grove cases who no longer will have to travel to Arlington Heights for court.

Will take load off Arlington branch

Traffic court to be ready by March 1

The opening of a Circuit Court branch in the Wheeling Municipal Building, at which traffic cases for the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove area will be heard, has been set for March 1.

The decision to establish a branch of the 2nd Municipal District in Wheeling was made last April, but the opening has been delayed several times.

Circuit Court Judge Harold Sullivan, presiding judge of the 2nd District, was unavailable for comment Monday but a spokesman for the court said clerks have been directed to report to the Wheeling branch March 1.

Village Mgr. George Passolt said several matters still must be resolved before the court branch opens. Among them are the location of the judge's chambers and the court clerk's office. Court sessions will be conducted in the village board chambers.

COURT OFFICIALS decided to open a branch in Wheeling after Sullivan met with area police chiefs to discuss overcrowded conditions at the court in Arlington Heights. That court is now the only one serving a majority of the Northwest suburban municipalities.

Judge Sullivan has said the hearing of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove cases at the new branch will eliminate overloaded court dockets in Arlington Heights. The Wheeling location was chosen in preference to one in Rolling Meadows.

Wheeling and Buffalo Grove officials have said the new branch will eliminate travel time, enabling policemen to spend more time on patrol. Elimination of the overcrowded conditions, they said, also will reduce the amount of overtime the villages must pay policemen, who often are delayed in court for long periods.

Court officials said the Wheeling Court will hear cases Fridays, but may eventually conduct sessions two days a week if dockets become overloaded.

OPENING OF THE court branch in Wheeling has been delayed because the village did not have adequate parking facilities to handle the increased traffic the court is expected to generate.

A new parking lot, however, was completed recently which enabled officials to move ahead with plans.

Village officials originally predicted the lot would be finished by Aug. 1, but construction was delayed because bids for the work came in considerably higher than expected. After much consideration, village officials rejected the bids, saying village employees could do the work at substantial savings.

The new parking lot is east of the municipal building and accommodates about 100 cars. The lot now is gravel, but officials said it will be paved in the spring.

Elk Grove Village seeks to zap skin flick

'Flesh Gordon' may be flash in the pan

The X-rated movie "Flesh Gordon" still is showing at the Elk Grove Cinema, but it may be here today and gone tomorrow.

Village Mgr. Charles Willis said Monday he sees no grounds for closing the theater under the local anti-obscenity ordinance, but said additional information later may cause him to change his mind.

"Based on the information I have at this point in time, I don't feel the ordinance is being violated," Willis said. "That does not mean, however, that as new facts and evidence come in, I won't reconsider this position."

WILLIS REFUSED to say who might provide the "new facts and evidence" to show the movie violates the local anti-obscenity law.

A parody of the popular Flash Gordon serials of the 1930s and 1940s, "Flesh Gordon" is supposed to show at the Grove Shopping Center theater through Thursday, but Willis would not promise the film will finish its run.

"I haven't found any grounds to take action under the ordinance, but that doesn't mean we won't find the grounds," he said.

THREE ELK GROVE Village policemen were sent to the first screening of the movie Friday night as "official viewers" to check the film against standards outlined in the anti-obscenity law. At least one of the officers is reported to have found the movie obscene, as defined by the ordinance.

The village board passed the measure in an emergency Sunday night meeting last January to prevent theater owner Walter Panceo from showing the X-rated movie "The Devil in Miss Jones."

Challenging the ordinance with a lawsuit, Panceo tried to show the film again last February and was successful for 10 days despite village attempts to seek injunctions to close the theater.

All court action was dropped when Panceo agreed to stop showing "The Devil in Miss Jones" and return to milder fare. "Flesh Gordon" is the first X-rated movie Panceo has offered at the theater since that controversy ended.

Children's film series to begin Saturday

The Buffalo Grove Park District will begin its six-week long Saturday afternoon children's film and cartoon series Jan. 25 with "Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein."

The films will be shown from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Emmerich Park Center, 150 Raupp Blvd.

Admission will be 50 cents and all cartoons will be shown with all films, said recreation supervisor Mike Rylko.

"Pinocchio in Outer Space" will be shown Feb. 1. The Feb. 8 feature will be "Swiss Family Robinson." Feb. 15 will be an all-cartoon special, with "Snow White and the Three Stooges" scheduled for Feb. 22. "The Shaggy Dog" will close out the series March 1.

cause their apartments are located near the boiler.

Mrs. Wessel, however, said this is not the first time she has had problems at the complex. In the three years she has lived there, Mrs. Wessel said, sewers have backed up and filled her bathtub with raw sewage, at least 10 times.

Dettmer said his department traced the cause of that problem to residents above Mrs. Wessel dumping garbage down the toilet. "We couldn't believe what they flushed down their toilet," he said. For example building inspectors found towels and soap pads among other debris in the system, Dettmer said.

"That problem was the fault of the residents, not the management," Dettmer said.

ANOTHER RESIDENT, Betty Farrow, 765 Grove Dr., said she recently had to wait for almost two months to get the carpeting in her living room replaced after she had a flooding problem, from a broken pipe.

Dettmer said Mrs. Farrow's problem is an example of what the Littlestone firm was left with after Kassuba filed bankruptcy. He said the Kassuba firm fell so far behind with repairs that Littlestone has "monumental problems just keeping the place up."

Dettmer has instructed Littlestone officials to replace all the defective heating parts which have caused the recent problems. "I believe there is an honest effort being put forth by Littlestone to get all these things (repairs) accomplished," he said.

Gregory Norvik, a regional manager for Littlestone, said there are problems with Kassuba still owning the complex. He said it is a long process to change ownership because the Kassuba property transfer involves several large purchases. "There are some technicalities when you're dealing with a purchase of this size," he said. He would not go into detail.

The situation, meanwhile, has slowed down major repair work at the Sandpiper complex. Norvik said, however, that any "major work that has to be done has already begun."

"We're doing everything possible to correct any physical problems. We are a resident-oriented company," Norvik said.

Visiting L.A. this year? Discover something 'new'

LOS ANGELES — The crazy conglomeration of different communities, entertainment attractions, landscapes and lifestyles make this one of the world's most unique cities.

Everytime I travel to this sprawling metropolis between sea and mountains I find something new and exciting in its multifaceted 450 square miles.

Most visitors come to L.A. knowing all about Universal Studios, the Hollywood Bowl, Grauman's Chinese Theatre, the "Miracle Mile" and Beverly Hills.

Here are a few attractions that are not always as widely publicized, but ones you should definitely plan to visit if you make a trip to Los Angeles this year:

• Old Town Music Hall. If you are nostalgic — or just curious — about old movies starring past favorites like Buster Keaton, Douglas Fairbanks or Marie Dressler, you won't want to miss a visit here.

• Queen Mary. The world's most famous ship is open for tours of the five-deck-high Queen Mary Museum — Jacques-Yves Cousteau's Living Sea — and the upper decks of the luxury vessel. The ship is permanently moored in Long Beach and open every day all year round.

• Stewart's Orchids — the largest orchid nursery in southern California. It is open all year but the best times to see the largest number of orchids in bloom are from February through May and in October.

Quiet hotels do exist in Hawaii

We never have been to Hawaii and want to avoid the big, posh tourist-type hotels and find something a little more isolated. Any suggestions?

Mrs. R. W., Palatine
If you are under 40, you might like the Pioneer Inn in the fascinating whaling village of Lahaina. It looks like it came right out of an old South Seas movie. There's a small pool, fairly good rooms with air conditioning and private baths. Buses take you to a nice public beach 10 minutes away. A double in the new building is $154 a week — a large studio, $203.

If you are middle-aged or older, the Pioneer Inn might not appeal to you. But a condominium would — like the Lahaina Shores Hotel, near the famous Kaanapali golf courses. There's a medium-sized pool on the beach — the rooms are air-conditioned and have fully-equipped kitchens. A studio with a mountain view is $238 a week for a couple. For $21 more you can have an ocean view.

Nonstop flights to Frankfurt

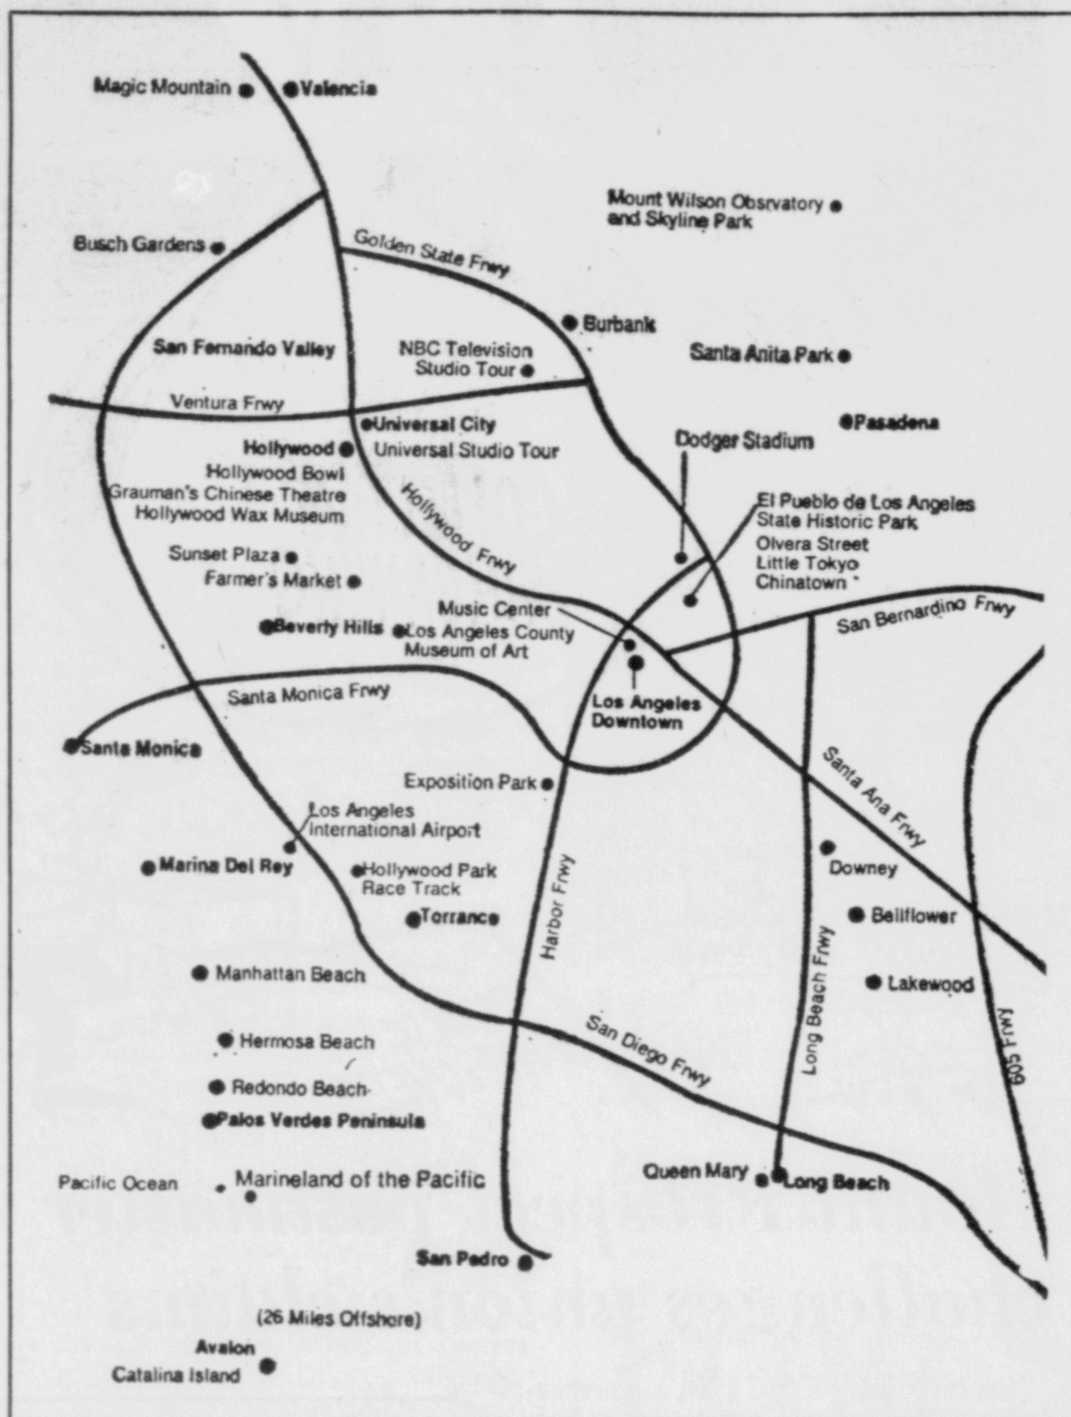

Pan American World Airways will resume daily nonstop flights from O'Hare Airport to Europe effective May 22.

The new flight will serve Frankfurt with the only nonstop service between the Midwest and Germany by an American air carrier. Three days a week the flight will be extended beyond Frankfurt to Warsaw, which will provide the only no-change-of-aircraft service from the Midwest to Poland.

Pan Am currently operates three weekly flights from Chicago to Frankfurt and Munich. Effective March 16, the airline will begin daily European flights from Chicago to Amsterdam. Other cities that will have no-change-of-aircraft service from Chicago are Copenhagen, Düsseldorf, Moscow, Prague, Vienna and Warsaw.

The new nonstop flight will provide a direct connection in Frankfurt to Pan Am's Round-the-World service to Istanbul, Beirut, Tehran, Karachi, Delhi, and other points in Asia.

J. W. Schmock, Pan Am's managing director for the Midwest region, said "the new service will give Midwest residents the option of flying nonstop on an American air carrier to the heart of Europe. In addition," he said, "the Polish community in the Midwest will be able, for the first time, to visit Poland without having to change aircraft en route."

Herald opinion

Bargaining bill merits priority

The Illinois General Assembly has the opportunity this year to bring order to the chaotic world of public employe negotiations by passing a collective bargaining bill.

Observers of the legislature agree that if the House of Representatives ever succeeds in naming a speaker, collective bargaining legislation for public employes will have its best chance ever for passage. We hope this is true, and further hope that village officials and school board members who might be tempted to oppose such legislation will see that it may well serve their interests as well as the interests of their employes.

Now, state law does not make any provision for collective bargaining by public employes. When teachers, policemen or maintenance crews want to negotiate with their employers, the two sides must first agree, if they can, on ground rules for the talks.

This lack of ground rules is one of the factors which leads to strikes and discord in the field of public employe bargaining. A well-written collective bargaining bill would make the rights of both employes and employers clear and hopefully would cut down on the number of strikes.

One of the big hang-ups in passing a collective bargaining bill may be whether to prohibit public employe strikes. We reiterate that policemen, firemen and, perhaps, garbage collectors should not have the right to strike because of the danger to public health and safety that could result. Collective bargaining legislation probably should include some provision for binding arbitration for those workers.

Teachers and other public employes, however, do not have a direct relationship to the public health and safety, and the legislature should avoid imposing binding arbitration and a no-strike provision in those cases where it is not needed.

It is important that, as the legislature develops collective bargaining legislation, representatives of school boards and other governmental bodies be involved in addition to the lobbyists of unions. The involvement of governmental bodies should not be mere obstructionism, but instead should be an effort to make a collective bargaining bill fair to both labor and management.

It is important to remember that labor-management disputes in the public sector also involve a third party — the public. A well-drawn collective bargaining bill will serve that third party by ensuring a minimum of strikes and disruption of public services.

Trees doomed by walks

Times are tough all over, but especially in Arlington Heights for box elders.

Box elder has never enjoyed much of a reputation. Its leaves can be mistaken for poison ivy, its wood is inferior and, although it grows fast, it does not live long.

But is that enough reason to hack down a box elder?

Normally not, but in the case of Arlington Heights box elders, they are in competition with concrete for a place in the sun.

In case you're not familiar with the situation, a few neighborhoods in Arlington Heights have been in turmoil lately because of a dictum from members of the local Board of Local Improvements that sidewalks will be placed where they never were before. Some neighborhoods are fairly new and find the imposition of sidewalks surprising and unnecessary. Some neighborhoods were planned and built nearly a half century ago and have the landscaping to prove it.

But the sidewalk policy of the village seems to care little for these things when compared to the beauty, safety and just plain "rightness" of sidewalks.

Now we find that so complete is the methodology of government that there is a list of species of trees which will live or die, depending on the paths of the sidewalks.

According to a probe by Ginny Maier, head of the Arlington Beautification Council, there is an "enemies" list of trees which will get the chop when sidewalks snake across the lawns. Among the doomed trees are the lowly box elder, all elms, the once popular silver maple and every evergreen.

If, on the other hand, an arborist 30 years ago had some foresight and planted an "approved" tree where the sidewalks will be, the concrete may bend a little around its roots.

So it looks like, in the latest battle between concrete and trees, the concrete will win.

The village will plant other trees in other places, but by necessity the new trees are the kind you can walk up to and wrap your fingers around.

It won't be much of a tree to look at for a score of years, but at least it will be in a certificated place and of an approved specie.

Until someone changes the rules again and they come to chop it down.

A cramp on crime?

A punishment used in probably every grade school at one time or another has been adopted by a San Rafael, Calif., judge.

Judge Gary Thomas has ordered some minor offenders to write such things as "I will not steal" 2,000 times — a task that takes about eight hours, it is reported.

Blisters on the fingers and writer's cramp are the side effects of this heinous penalty. Whether such suffering eases the crush on our criminal justice system has not yet been determined.

Mount Prospect postmaster challenges union's claims

You recently received from a representative of the National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) a letter seeking your support of the union's aims and disclaiming responsibility for any deterioration of postal services.

I think you should know that the letter is part of a nationally organized plan to soften the public and the press for a possible illegal strike against the government. Any strike by postal employees is in violation of the law.

At best, the NALC letter is utterly irresponsible. For the union to deny any responsibility on the part of its members for the occasionally missent or delayed letter is as absurd as it would be for the Postal Service to deny responsibility for the performance of our employes.

The Postal Reorganization Act mandated that postal workers be paid wages and benefits comparable to those in the private sector. A year and one-half ago, the Postal Service and the postal unions entered into a contract that met the requirements of comparability. Today, the average letter carrier earns well over $14,000 a year in salary and fringe benefits and his salary goes up as the cost of living index increases.

The union, in its Fence Post letter drafted by the Washington headquarters of the NALC, makes these points which I would like to refute:

- Statement: We do not condone curtailment of any type of mail and feel that if our routes were properly adjusted there would not be the serious delays which are now being experienced.

- Fact: We do not like to curtail the delivery of any type of mail, but at times heavy mail volumes make it necessary. This happens not only seasonally but on certain days of the week, and when it does we curtail non-preferential mail for delivery the following day.

This practice has been used to better adjust the workload of carriers for many years. This is done because if carrier routes were adjusted so that heavy mail days could be served in 8 hours, several days a week the carrier would have considerably less than 8 hours work. It is our intent to adjust routes so a carrier has as close to 8 hours work a day as possible.

- Statement: There is a daily average of more than 11 million pieces of mail which are not deliverable as addressed. Your mail carrier has always forwarded this mail and placed correct addresses on misaddressed pieces. This has permitted prompt delivery of such mail. That job has now been taken from us and the forwarding of mail is now being computerized.

- Fact: Until 1973 letter carriers were responsible for forwarding mail for customers on their route who had moved and for returning mail addressed to persons unknown on their route. Under this system the mail was handled a second time by a clerk in the post office to verify that address correction was requested, to charge postage due if required and for sorting to its proper destination.

In 1973 installation of a new system was started in which pre-printed pressure sensitive labels were used to replace the handwritten endorsement formerly made by the carrier and the responsibility for affixing labels was transferred from the carrier to a clerk in the post office. As a result, carriers are able to devote more time to the actual delivery of mail, reducing the need for some carrier personnel.

The new system has provided a more efficient and less costly method for handling mail undeliverable as addressed.

- Statement: Our assignments are based on strictly full 8 hour assignments. We resent being followed and spied upon as we perform our duties and we feel that at a time when our country is involved in an energy crisis, the Postal Service should not be burning valuable gasoline in the autos of non-productive supervision.

- Fact: What the union refers to as "spying" is in reality a practice of supervising carriers' activities on their delivery routes. All other Postal Service employees in all crafts are supervised throughout their work day.

Management has not only a right but a responsibility to ensure that carriers are performing efficiently and effectively on their route and they cannot do this unless they too are on the street.

Fence post letters to the editor

Street supervision is not a punitive measure against the carrier. The purpose is to ensure that the carrier is performing his work in a safe and efficient manner and that proper service is being given to each of our customers.

The union letter solicits your support. Support for what?

A memorandum to branch officers of the NALC, which went out with the "sample letter" to editors, clearly identifies the issue: "In order to have a successful strike, it is necessary in our profession to secure and retain public support. When the strike issue is over a wage dispute or the failure of management to negotiate in good faith, it is a very simple matter to arouse the troops sufficiently to gain total cooperation in any national job action."

So wages or the failure to negotiate in good faith are not at issue. Union rhetoric aside, the basic issue is that of productivity. The Postal Service is paying our employes a competitive wage. We feel that our employes have an obligation to earn it in their performance on the job.

We find it hard to believe that the public will support such a strike, when we have already had to increase postage rates to their current level to offset the inflationary trend and the cost of the present contract with postal workers, and another rate increase is envisioned for next summer to help meet the challenges of inflation and any wage increases in the upcoming labor negotiations.

'Get U.S. out of the U.N.'

Two recent events at the United Nations have served to focus public attention on the incurable failings of the world body. The more highly publicized of the two amounted to conferring legitimacy on obvious cutthroats, Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO); the other, involving suspension of a member state, demonstrates once again that the UN operates under a double standard.

The PLO was responsible for the cold-blooded murder at the Munich Olympic games, the slaughter of innocent children in Israel, assassinations of diplomats in Khartoum, hijackings, kidnappings, and terrorism — all a matter of policy. Yet, by a vote of 89-8 the UN approved the PLO's claim to statehood and then by a 95-17 vote, granted permanent observer

by DICK WEST

Last week, as you know, two veteran House committee chairmen were dumped by their colleagues and two others were at least temporarily denied reelection.

The first time I suspected something was afoot was when I encountered a woman knitting a ski sweater on the House steps.

Noting that the design on the front was rather unusual, I stopped for a closer look. It was then that I discovered she had stitched in the names Hebert, Poage, Patman and Hays.

I asked the knitter, who identified herself as a Ms. Lafarge of Two Cities, Ga., where she got the pattern. She held up the sweater and looked at it in amazement.

"I wonder what the Dickens went wrong," she muttered. "This was supposed to be a reindeer."

Inside the Capitol, anarchy reigned. People cowering and scurrying in the anterooms. Bulletins zinging down the corridors and ricocheting off the walls.

"There goes another one!" someone shouted as I neared the House chamber.

"What's happening?" I asked the doorman.

"They're picking off committee chairmen," he replied, pointing to two prostrate forms on the floor of the Speaker's Lobby.

We both ducked as another bulletin whistled overhead.

"It appears to be coming from the direction of the Democratic Caucus," the doorman cried.

When I reached the press gallery I learned that a revolution against four chairmen had broken out.

Plugged in to a new way of life—with pitfalls

by DOROTHY MEYER

Due to the unprecedented generosity of my children the past holiday season, I am learning a whole new way of life in 1975. No, I don't mean that I can retire and live off their generosity — it wasn't quite that unprecedented. It is just that they have introduced me to new methods of cooking and waking up. Or waking up and cooking, depending upon which Christmas gift I plug in first.

There is the pot, for instance, that will cook all day long at a low, economical and safe heat and have a crock of supper waiting for me when I get home from work. Of course, I didn't believe for one minute that you could plug the thing in at 7 a.m. and leave it alone all day without having to worry about incinerating the food or burning the house down.

So all day long at work I worried. This caused me to not get much work done which in turn caused my boss to comment on my lack of progress. When I explained my preoccupation, he said, "That's a crock," and I said, "It certainly is," and then I had some more explaining to do.

The boss might not have noticed the

Dick West

Told that one of the victims was Eddie Hebert of Armed Services, I said "I didn't know he went around with strippers."

"This isn't like the Wilbur Mills case," a colleague advised. "These chairmen were involved in a different type of scandal. They got caught growing old."

I was shocked, of course. I had heard rumors that Ray Madden of the Rules Committee was a closet ager and that George Mahon of Appropriations had been known to put on a few years in private.

But I would never have suspected Patman, Poage, Hays or Hebert of excessive aging.

After it was over, I called a young friend who was active in the student protest demonstrations a few years ago.

"What was your reaction to the anti-seniority revolt in Congress?" I asked.

He said he could sympathize with the congressional militants in their desire to bring about changes, but deplored their extremist methods.

"They should learn to work within the system," he said.

declining rate of my accomplishments if I had not also been an hour and a half late in getting to work the day before.

Another of my Christmas presents, a clock radio, caused that delay, and it was unfortunate that I chose to use it the first time on a day that marked my 11th anniversary on the job. A mini-observance of the occasion had been awaiting my arrival and that cup of coffee was really cold when the boss handed it to me. I apologized for the lateness of the hour and explained that I had set my radio wrong.

The boss said, "You mean your clock. I will surely fix your clock if you are this late again." I said, "I mean the clock in my radio which has an a.m. and a p.m. setting and I unknowingly set it at p.m." The boss said, "That's a crock." I said, "No, that's what I'm going to cook in tomorrow."

That was two weeks ago and although I have learned to trust the pot's assurance that it will not set fire to my food or my house, I still haven't figured out how to set the alarm so that it will wake me up. I am used to the shrill ring of my old alarm clock and the clock radio buzzes. A buzz does not penetrate the coma I call sleep, not even when it is associated with a saw that is cutting down a tree outside my bedroom window.

Last night I decided to try the "wake to music" setting and, knowing the depth of my sleep, I turned the volume up as loud as it would go. I did not get out of bed this morning. I was thrown out by a force that has since been mistakenly reported as a sonic boom. Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" also cracked a bedroom window and caused the toilet to flush all by itself.

But I got to work on time. Deaf, but on time.

The almanac

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 21, the 21st day of 1975 with 344 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Aquarius.

Civil War Gen. Thomas Jonathan Jackson — a Southern Confederate commander known as "Stonewall" Jackson — was born Jan. 21, 1824.

On this day in history:

- In 1861, Jefferson Davis resigned from the United States Senate, 12 days before Mississippi seceded from the Union.

- In 1908, New York City enacted the "Sullivan Ordinance" which held smoking by women illegal.

- In 1954, the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the "Nautilus," was launched at Groton, Conn.

- In 1968, a U.S. Air Force B52 carrying four reportedly non-explosive hydrogen bombs crashed off Greenland.

A thought for the day:
President Harry Truman said, "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not to dominate the world."

Bingo! Money jingles in a big pot. Chips flip across the playing cards as feverish men and women play the game that has earned handsome incomes for thousands of charities.

The game is still a popular one in the Northwest suburbs. Despite a tight national economy local residents turn out by the hundreds at games sponsored by local churches and civic organizations.

Only two local organizations have canceled their games — the Buffalo Grove Fire Dept. and St. Hubert's Catholic Church in Hoffman Estates. And bingo still draws large crowds in Buffalo Grove at St. Mary's School hall on Tuesday nights.

ATTENDANCE IS STILL the highest locally at St. James Catholic Church in Arlington Heights, where as many as 700 persons show up when the $500 jackpot hasn't been won for a few weeks.

In Des Plaines, the Military Commemorative Committee has raised $27,000 with bingo for a bandshell it is building in Lake Opeka Park. Before bingo was legalized the organization had collected only $5,000. With construction already begun, the bingo games go on each week at the VFW hall and the committee is on the road to raising the remaining $23,000 of the $60,000 construction cost.

When the bandshell's done it will be used for concerts by the Maine West Band, meetings of the Golden 50's club . . . and perhaps a little outdoor bingo in the summertime.

Some of the organizations, which started bingo games back in 1971 when it was legalized, have experienced a lull in attendance. At the Arlington Heights American Legion Hall, the free coffee and cookies have lured back the few players who shopped around for better Here's where the action is . . .

Looking for a place to put your bingo chips down?

St. Mary's Church in Buffalo Grove has doubled the prizes for its Tuesday, Feb. 4, anniversary game at 7:45 p.m. in the school hall.

The regular Tuesday night game is special that day because it is the third anniversary of the day bingo began at the church, 75 N. Buffalo Grove Rd. For the special event consolation prizes of $150, $200 and $250 will be awarded. Attendance at St. Mary's on regular Tuesday nights is "knocking on the door of 200" people, Father Donald Duffy said.

Other locations of some weekly bingo contests in the Northwest suburbs include:

• St. James Catholic Church parish Center, 841 N. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights, Sundays at 7 p.m.

• Des Plaines American Legion Hall, 10 N. East River Rd., Des Plaines, Fridays at 8 p.m.

• Elk Grove VFW Post Hall, 400 E. Devon, Elk Grove Village, Sundays and Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

• St. Joseph the Worker Church, 181 W. Dundee Rd., Wheeling, Fridays at 7:30 p.m.

prizes, and attendance runs from 100 to 135 each week.

Even the organizations that have started the game recently — St. Viator High School which began bingo last fall — are drawing respectable crowds. The Thursday night crowd at St. Viator draws an average of 280 persons.

AND DESPITE the tight economy, representatives of several local bingo parlors report the money spent per player is increasing, even if the number of players has dropped slightly since 1971.

Statewide revenue and the number of licensed to play bingo also are increasing, although not at a phenomenal rate.

• St. Edna's Catholic Church, 2525 N. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights, Fridays at 8 p.m.

• Palatine American Legion Post Hall, 122 W. Palatine Rd., Palatine, Saturdays at 7:30 p.m.

• Mount Prospect VFW Post Hall, 601 N. Main, Mount Prospect, Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m.

• St. Stephens Catholic Church, 1267 Everett, Des Plaines, Thursdays at 7:15 p.m. in the school hall.

• St. Zachary Catholic Church, 567 W. Algonquin Rd., Des Plaines, Fridays at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

• Des Plaines VFW Post Hall, 2067 Miner St., Des Plaines, sponsored by the Military Commemorative Committee, Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m.

• Arlington Heights Elks Club, 2323 Wilke Rd., Arlington Heights, Tuesdays at 7 p.m.

• Arlington Heights American Legion Post, 121 N. Douglas Ave., Arlington Heights, Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

• St. Viator High School, 1213 E. Dryden Ave., Arlington Heights, Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

• St. Colette's Catholic Church, 3900 S. Meadow Dr., Rolling Meadows, Fridays at 8 p.m.

Each organization seeking a bingo license pays a $200 yearly fee and 10 percent of its gross income goes into state coffers to be spent on mental health or education.

Ken Groeper of the Illinois Dept. of Revenue, reports that if you're looking for a bingo game it shouldn't be too hard to find one. There are approximately 1,425 regular licenses in the state, he said. In addition, a number of special licenses for one-time events also are available.

When dieting, don't disregard cucumbers and cabbage; they do contain calories

I am a weight watcher and have had my weight down for three years. I weigh 110 pounds and used to weigh 200. I am very interested in calories. You always say a calorie is a calorie, so why do some diets say you can eat all you want of cucumbers, cabbage, radishes and so on?

Please let me know if you have to count them, as I would eat much more of them if they didn't have to be controlled.

Many diets just disregard these items thinking they don't contribute much to the total calorie intake. The few calories they do contain, though, have to be added to the daily intake. The U.S. Dept. of Agriculture tables list one pared cucumber weighing seven ounces as 30 calories. Not very many people would eat a lot of cucumbers every day.

Except for those few people who have to watch every calorie, you can just about ignore these food items (cucumbers, lettuce, radishes), but when every calorie does make the difference in a successful diet program, then they have to be considered. Of course, if you would walk an extra mile each day you could eat almost two cucumbers and still not affect your calorie balance.

I have split and peeling fingernails. I have asked doctors about it and never get an answer as to its cause. I've tried gelatin to no avail. I try to keep nail polish on them to protect them and even wear gloves. I'm 52 and have never had good nails. In the last eight years they have been so bad they peel back in layers, that, of course, keeps the ends soft and ragged.

I eat a wide variety of fruits and vegetables. I do not care for milk, but do eat milk products, cheese and cottage cheese.

Most people who have nail problems will not get any benefit from drinking gelatin mixtures. Gelatin is a protein and has only part of the essential amino acids the body needs. I suppose if a person were deficient in the amount of protein in the diet it might do some good, but in our society protein deficiency is not very common.

Women, particularly, are apt to have iron and calcium deficiencies that contribute to poor nails. The iron-deficiency may show up with an anemia or even with difficulty in swallowing and various digestive complaints. Any common all-purpose daily vitamin pill with iron should satisfy the need for iron except in the presence of medical problems.

Calcium deficiencies are widespread because people don't use milk or milk products. Cottage cheese is a good source of calcium, but if that is your main source I wonder if you really use enough every day to meet your calcium needs. If you don't like to drink milk you might find ways to use it in cooking. You can use the dry milk powder in cooking and increase the calcium intake. Desserts are often given a bad press because they are sweet. A dessert can be good for you if made with sufficient amounts of milk containing protein and calcium. It is what is in the dessert that counts, not just whether it is sweet or not.

Finally, some women benefit from using one of the nail polish preparations intended to harden and cover or protect the nails. These preparations work better than ordinary nail polish.

How to handle this overbid

South glared at his partner and yelled. "Do you have to overbid all the time? Couldn't you double four spades and take a profit?"

Then he spread his hand and announced, "I have to go down one trick."

West who was keeping score put down his hand and chalked up 100 points on his side of the ledger. North picked up the West hand, looked it over carefully, turned to his partner and said, "If you had the brains of any animal quieter than a braying jackass, you would have kept your mouth shut and wrapped up your contract."

North was right and the play to make five diamonds is not really complicated. In fact it is a sure thing provided West has eight spades and at least one trump.

South wins the first spade; draws trumps with two leads; cashes the top hearts and clubs and noted that West has followed to one heart and to both clubs. Now South leads a low club.

If West wins the trick he must play spades. After following once South gets to ruff in one hand and discard a heart from the other. If East wins he can cash a heart, but then must give South a ruff and spade discard.

Who'll prevail Friday, Cards or Mustangs?

by MIKE KLEIN
Swimming Editor

The moment that Rolling Meadows squeezed past Forest View by two points last Friday afternoon, many eyes looked toward next weekend when Arlington and the Mustangs will contend for first place in Mid-Suburban League varsity swimming.

Comparative times show the Cardinals a distinct favorite over Meadows but both carry undefeated MSL records into Friday's 4:30 p.m. duel in the Buffalo Grove High School pool.

Arlington leads the MSL at 4-0 and Meadows goes 3-0. Their only common opponent has been Prospect. Arlington beat the Knights by 58 points and Rolling Meadows won by two.

The Cardinals have also defeated Elk

Grove by 43 points, Hersey by 25 and Buffalo Grove by 39 last weekend, 106-67. Rolling Meadows claims a 16-point win over Wheeling and beat Forest View, 87-85, this past Friday.

Other Mid-Suburban results showed Hersey with an important 92-78 win over Elk Grove and Prospect defeating Wheeling, 96-76. Hersey owns third place with a 3-1 record. Prospect and Elk Grove are each 2-2.

Excepting a Meadows upset, the Cardinals should virtually assure themselves first place for the dual meet portion of this season. Hersey and Elk Grove are expected to challenge at the Buffalo Grove hosted MSL championships on Friday, Feb. 14.

Coach Don Andersen's Cardinals have won three outright MSL titles since sharing the league's second swim crown with Forest View in 1970-71. Forest View won the first MSL championship.

"Except for sickness or injuries, every coach knows how the league will end up. There's no doubt Arlington will win," predicted Hersey head coach Herb Parsons.

"Elk Grove has two losses and I don't see us losing to Rolling Meadows so we'd come in second," Parsons said. "Elk Grove and Meadows will battle for third but I still think Elk Grove has a better shot."

Last Friday, Hersey claimed its first victory in six years over the Grenadiers. Bill Cashmore set a Hersey diving record with 267.15 points and ranks second on the new Paddock Swimming Honor Roll.

Chris Tague twice and John Sliter once were Hersey's only winners as Elk Grove demonstrated strength. Tague, no surprise here, won the 200 and 500 freestyles in 1:49.0 and 4:52.2. Sliter swam 57.822 in 100 butterfly and touched-out Elk Grove's Brent Bolin, 57.834.

Bolin swam his fastest time and won 200 individual medley, 2:08.1. Steve Banach was the best in 50 and 100 freestyles, 23.5 and 52.1. Jim Cashman in 100 backstroke, 1:00.0, and Tom Jacobson in 100 breaststroke, 1:07.4, also won for Elk Grove.

The Huskies and Grenadiers split relays. Banach, Jacobson, Bolin and Tim Durkee swam 1:47.5 and won 200 medley for Elk Grove. The 400 free went to Hersey in 3:33.3 behind Tim Wheeler, Dick Hawes, Tague and Tague.

CARDS WITH EASE, 106-67

Joe Nitch swam his personal best clockings in two events, and they weren't even freestyles, as Arlington prepared for Rolling Meadows by stomping winless Buffalo Grove, 106-67.

Nitch captured 200 individual medley, 2:10.1, and 100 butterfly, 58.2, for his new personal records. Arlington had another double win performance from Dixon O'Brien in 200 free, 2:00.3, and 100 backstroke, 1:01.7.

Buffalo Grove won two events. Bison Mike Foley prevailed by one-tenth over Arlington's Kiernan Mack in 50 freestyle. Foley swam 24.3. Dan Woodruff won 500 free in 5:25.4.

Also out front for Arlington were Mack in 100 free, 54.4, Pete Wroblewski in 100 breaststroke, 1:10.7, and diver Jeff Munk, 174.80 points.

Rob Carstens, Wroblewski, Nitch and Steve Nowack won 200 medley relay in 1:51.3. Carstens, O'Brien, Mack and Tony Hahn took the freestyle relay in 3:39.9.

MUSTANGS SET RECORDS, WIN

Gary Grunwald in 100 freestyle, 52.2, and Tom Stahnke in 500 free, 5:28.1, established Rolling Meadows records as the Mustangs hung on to beat Forest View, 87-85.

Stahnke won his event but Grunwald was second in 100 free when Forest View's Kevin Redig finished one-tenth quicker. Grunwald did touch-out Falcon Mike Zahakaylo in 50 free. Both young men were clocked at 24.2. Redig won 200 individual medley, 2:13.4.

Forest View won the final relay but it wasn't enough as Meadows had second and third points. The Falcon winners, in 3:38.6, were Mark Oliver, Mark Buczek, Oke Pearson and Redig. Pearson won 200 free, 2:01.5, and Zahakaylo took 100 backstroke, 1:04.3, for the Falcons. Jim Rohn won diving, 189.85.

Meadows' Ken Stahnke in 100 breaststroke, the second-to-last event, beat Falcon freshman Jim Kantecki for six first place points. Stahnke swam 1:09.8 and Kantecki 1:11.1.

Dan Mate's 1:00.1 gave the Mustangs a winner in butterfly. Tom Stahnke, Ken Stahnke, Mate and Grunwald opened with a 1:50.6 win in 200 medley relay.

PROSPECT WINS, 96-76

Wheeling's Bill Blank won a judge's decision and improved his clockings in two events but it was Prospect with more balance and a 96-76 victory.

Blank and teammate Don Rothhaar had identical 23.8 times in 50 freestyle but Blank got the win. He also beat Prospect's Gary Eichhorst with 52.7 in 100 free. Eichhorst swam 53.8 over four pool lengths but won the 200 free in 2:00.2.

The Knights dominated in eight events. Brad Busse led in 200 individual medley, 2:16.1, and breaststroke, 1:07.0. Two freshmen also shown well. Mark Halversen won and set a Prospect record in 500 free with 5:31.4. Tom Cole captured butterfly, 1:02.

Other Prospect winners included Chris Prinslow in 100 backstroke, 1:00.4, and diver John Kriescher, 170.40. Prinslow, Busse, Don Balas and Cole won 200 medley relay 1:51.3.

Rothhaar, Dave Mede, Tom Atchison and Blank prevailed in 400 freestyle relay, 3:42.4.

Steigerwald starts East charge; West splits

by MIKE KLEIN
Swimming Editor

Maine East's school record 200 freestyle performance, clocked last Friday evening by sophomore Scott Steigerwald, had double merit because it provided the impetus behind Maine's 98-73 victory over Highland Park.

The Central Suburban visitors opened at East with a touch-out win in 200 medley relay. Highland Park's 1:49.638 beat the 1:49.719 recorded by Maine's Jim Schaeffes, George Morgan, Mike Brennan and Scott Schwandt.

Kevin Coxon swam the first leg on that winning Giants' relay. And Highland Park brought him back in the next event, 200 free.

But Steigerwald nailed Coxon in another touch-out, earning his Maine East record in 1:58.235. Coxon swam 1:55.851 and from that early juncture, Highland Park struggled for points.

Coxon found his luck no better in 100 backstroke when Maine's Schaeffes beat him by less than two-tenths. The winning time was 1:02.478 and Coxon swam second in 1:02.635.

Now even at 2-2 in the Central Suburban League, East captured six events. Steigerwald set another Demon record with 5:14.0 in 500 freestyle, but that was a runner-up time. Chris Dickson's 276.70 established an East dual meet diving record and leads the new Paddock Swimming Honor Roll.

In a much less competitive meet, Maine West won its third straight duel by stomping undermanned Niles East, 86-54. That low total score resulted when neither school filled the entry quota in many events. The Warriors are 3-2 in conference.

Maine East coach Ron Davitt expected a much closer score with Highland Park and recognized the possibility of defeat. But the Demons took second and third in 200 medley relay, then captured 11 points in 200 free. They came off Steigerwald's first place record, Scott Strauss' third, 1:58.2, and Rich Childs' fourth, 2:01.1.

Led by Dickson's outstanding work, the Demons pulled further ahead with a 13-2 diving sweep and without two regulars, Tom Doyle and Jim Zimmerman, who were sick. Freshman Brian Natta, 159.9, and senior Mike Caldron, 118.4, finished two-three.

The Demons had no double winners but did finish one-two in 200 individual medley behind Jon Tice's 2:11.3 and Gerry McKerver's 2:13.5. McKerver returned to win 100 free, 53.0.

Tice, Strauss, Brennan and McKerver were victorious in 400 freestyle relay, 3:33.4. East also won third place, 3:54.0.

Maine West swam right through Niles East in preparation for Saturday's meet at Arlington, a 101-66 loss. Tom Ptach won twice against Niles, taking 200 and 500 freestyles in 1:59.2 and 5:42.5, well below the excellent times he has recorded this season.

Brothers Mark and George Ericksen helped gain many of the Warriors' 86 points. Mark joined Nick Mencinger, Dave Gaffrick and Casey Schlachter to win 200 medley relay, 1:57.4.

Mark captured 100 butterfly, 1:05.9, with brother George second, 1:07.5. George won 200 individual medley, 2:19.2, and Mark was third, 2:37.0.

Other winners for West were Meninger in 100 breaststroke, 1:13.7, and diver Jerry Paulsen, 102 points.

Gaffrick, with 54.5 in 100 freestyle, was Maine West's only winner in the non-conference meet Saturday at Arlington. Joe Nitch and Dixon O'Brien won twice for the hosts.

Nitch captured 200 and 500 freestyles in 1:51.1 and 5:03.3. O'Brien won 200 individual medley, 2:11.9, and 100 butterfly, 1:02.0. Other Card winners included Dan Stubing in 50 freestyle, 24.5, sophomore diver Mike Pasche, 136.15, Rob Carstens in 100 backstroke, 59.4, and Kiernan Mack in 100 breaststroke, 1:06.8.

Stubing, Andy Williams, Pete Wroblewski and Nitch won the 400 freestyle relay, 3:41.9. Arlington was a 91-81 soph winner.

Maine South swims at Maine West Friday evening while Maine East entertains Maine North. Both meets are 7:30 p.m. East will attend the Glenbrook South Relays on Saturday.

Bob's 66 collects top men's prize

The champs come home Wednesday night.

Bob's 66 made it look easy Sunday as they rolled to the team championship in the Paddock Publications' Men's Bowling Tournament.

Representing the Wednesday Nite Mixers league at Fair Lanes Rolling Meadows, Bob's 66 fashioned an impressive 3257 with handicap to outdistance the field by 42 pins.

When they return to their home lanes Wednesday, the champs can talk about four bowlers soaring above their averages and one hitting average in the clutch performance at River Rand Bowl in Des Plaines.

Robert Dean and Pete Peters were the main pin-toppers for the 1975 champion with both bowlers hitting 138 pins above their averages.

Dean, who came in with a respectable 172 average, had a 206 as his low game Sunday en route to a booming 654 series. Peters, a 154-average kegler, used a big 238 middle game in fashioning an even 600.

But Dean and Peters weren't the entire story for this men's champ.

Maurice Sax came into the competition with a 165 average and he emerged with a 557 series on the strength of gradual improvement — 175 to 184 to 198.

Mike Kinefley was 32 pins over average with a solid 530 series, and Bob Hutson just missed his average by two pins in a steady 484.

Bob's 66 needed a strong effort to hold off the bid of E. A. Berg Insurance of the St. Colette Men's League at Fair Lanes.

Edward Logue, a 177-average bowler, had the big series for the Berg entry with a 608, hitting 253 in a fantastic opener. Logue's total keyed a 3215 team series that fell only 42 pins short.

Also contributing to the second place total were Gary Glazebrook with a 598, Ellwood Berg with a 560, Ron Schafstall with 554, and Kenneth Haukiede with 550.

Fast and Friendly Foods of the Tuesday Men's Handicap at Elk Grove took third place with a 3157 as Norb Bartnicki, the team leader with a 190 average, lived up to his No. 1 billing with a sizzling 665, Bartnicki had games of 222-230-213.

Chuck Neil, who carried only a 156 average into the tourney, did his part with a nice 563 after a 213 opener, and Mike Dyché (538), Bob Wojtas (506) and Wally Strack (477) also helped out in this third place performance.

Betty Southard Murphy

Contented mother with a career

by CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON
Betty Southard Murphy, who is President Ford's choice to be the first woman member and chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, is a tough-minded labor lawyer who also is a contented mother with a home in suburbia.
"I don't think I could do it if I didn't have a completely cooperative husband and a very wonderful housekeeper," she said in an interview shortly before the President's announcement.
Mrs. Murphy, 46, a genial, unassuming brunette, was a highly successful member of the Washington law firm of Wilson, Woods and Villalon when she took a 50 per cent cut in salary last July to become the first woman administrator of the Labor Department's wage-hour division at $36,000 a year.
She monitored administration of laws guaranteeing a minimum hourly wage, equal pay for men and women and a ban on job discrimination because of age, all affecting 73 million workers.
"I thought this was a good time to try to make a contribution" is the way she explained the change.
If she is confirmed by the Senate, Mrs. Murphy will succeed Chicago lawyer Edward B. Miller as chairman of the five-member NLRB, which strikes down unfair labor practices by unions or employers and mediates disputes over representation of industrial workers. Her annual salary would be $40,000.
Because of a merger, her old law firm came to have both big unions and big business corporations among its clients.
"I've represented unions from a grievance to an arbitration hearing right up to a Supreme Court case," she said matter-of-factly. "I've done everything for a corporation from negligence to a defense against charges of discrimination."
"I think more lawyers should do this. It gives you a broader perspective . . . We could understand both sides. This makes for labor peace. Labor lawyers can be a great force for good."
But Mrs. Murphy, who once worked in the Washington bureau of United Press International, has another legal love. "Freedom of the press cases, those are the ones I loved the best," she said.
She recalls with satisfying winning a court ruling that the Army could not "bar a newspaper from a post exchange newsstand like a can of tomatoes, without a hearing."

A native of East Orange, N.J., and a graduate of Ohio State University, she was attracted to the Supreme Court beat while working as a dictationist and special assignment reporter at UPI in 1955-56. After a year of night law school at American University, she won a scholarship and took a two-year leave of absence to get her degree. That ended her journalism career, but she is grateful for the experience.
"I think the best training for lawyers is newspaper work," she said. "You learn to express yourself clearly and with sparsity of verbiage. You learn to analyze. My briefs are easy to read."
She gets high marks from a former law partner, Warren Woods, who says she'd be welcome back any time.
"She's very quick, energetic, articulate, analytical," he said. "She's extremely good with people. I think she's absolutely great, frankly."
She and her husband, Dr. Cornelius F. Murphy, a radiologist on the staff of George Washington University Hospital, find the cocktail circuit holds little appeal.
They spend most of their free time at their suburban Annandale, Va., home with their two children, Cornelius Jr., 5, and Ann Southard, 6. Mrs. Murphy confirms the notion, which she says is supported by government statistics, that working mothers with help in the home spend more time with their children than lonely housewives.
She spent most of her more than 13 years of private practice in courtrooms in 19 states and in most of the 11 U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeal. She was admitted to the Supreme Court bar in 1961.
"I'm not a courtroom lawyer now and I miss it terribly," she said. "Recently I went to court to move some one's admission to the bar and it felt good to say 'May it please the court' again."
She attributes much of her happiness to her mother's prodding to excel.
"All people want essentially the same thing," she said, "a job, to make a contribution, to earn enough money and some sort of recognition for what they do."

Fat-free cheese hard to get

Dear Dorothy: Notice you've been writing a good deal about fat-free cheeses. I handle cheeses professionally and can tell you that those who want fat-free cheeses are going to have to experiment.

St. Otho is 95 per cent fat free and a lot of people like it. There is Androlis (99 per cent fat free), but it appeals mainly to those who like feta cheese. All these fat-free varieties are hard to get, but keep on looking. The American cheese-makers are trying hard at it. Matter of fat, they're doing more on the fat-free line than the foreign producers. — Jimmy Potito

Dear Dorothy: I understand there is a common household product that can be used to "age" redwood. I'd like to "age" my greenhouse benches without using any stain or harsh chemical that might injure plants. — Elizabeth Erickman

You ought to inquire at a good paint store. But if you want to try one of the home remedies I've heard about (but have not personally tried), brush liquid shortening into the wood and allow it to stand for about 10 days. It is supposed to act like the resin which is characteristic of redwood.

Dear Dorothy: I'm told eggs and baking powder make cakes light, so why do some recipes call for the addition of baking soda, too? Also, what might I be doing wrong when my cake, which has risen nice and high, falls when taken out of the oven? — Miss P. Nelson

If I researched the whole baking soda, baking powder and eggs bit, it would take a full day and turn into a brochure. Too complex to answer here. As for your cakes, are you sure your oven temperature is exactly right? And do you follow the instructions precisely and substitute nothing for the specified ingredients?

(Mrs. Ritz welcomes questions and hints. If a personal reply is required, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write to her in care of Suburban Living, Paddock Publications, Box 280, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.)
